

Epogee™ (esterified propoxylated glycerol) Fat Replacement, an innovative new food ingredient from Choco Finesse, will revolutionize the food industry. Epogee is a solid fat replacement that dramatically lowers calories and fat without sacrificing taste or flavor in foods.

Epogee is innovative.

- Reduce up to 45% of calories per serving and 80% of the total fat. 92% of calories from fat drop for each unit of fat replaced.
- Epogee is made from fat to give foods the same taste as full fat foods. A superior fat replacement is created through a proven process that uses natural, GMO free vegetable oils.
- Items containing Epogee were rated better or equivalent to full fat, full calorie foods during side-by-side test comparisons.

Epogee is needed.

- Obesity is the leading cause of multiple chronic diseases and early death.
- 38% of adults are obese and 71% are overweight in the U.S.
- There has never been a fat replacement like Epogee on the market.

Epogee can be used in:

Frozen desserts

Candies

Spreads + dips

Baked goods + mixes

Grains + pasta

Gravies + sauces

Nut butters

Epogee is scientifically proven.

- 17 years of research and development created a superior fat replacement.
- Epogee's effectiveness and safety is backed by one of the strongest databases ever developed for a new food ingredient.
 - 65 studies and 7 journal articles support its ability to drastically cut calories and fat.
- Epogee is kosher, gluten free, allergen free and vegan.
